All meetings will be held at the Christian R. Harris Memorial Hall at 12:00 Noon, located at 796 North "D" Street.

Members and interested guests are always cordially invited to attend.

IMPORTANT NOTE: The Oct. 5th meeting will be a "packing meeting," when we try to pack some of our memorabilia away to store until we can display it at a future date; after the "Heritage House" is restored - hopefully by the end of 1983.

As this issue is written, period wallpaper is being ordered and arrangements made to refinish the wood floors and add final painting touches to the interior and exterior.

CORRECTION

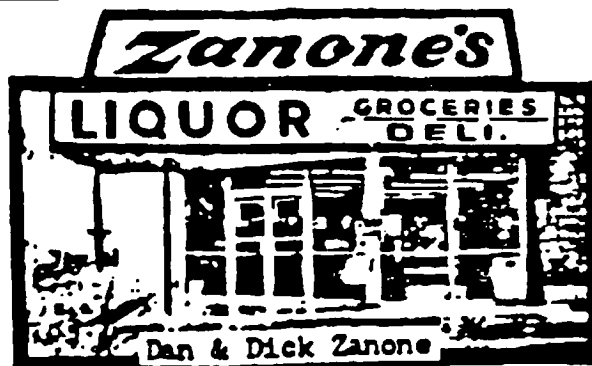

Gremlins crept into Odyssey typewriters in preparing the April-June issue. The title of the article on Page 28 should have read The San Bernardino Ranchos and Their Lugo Adobes. It described the several mission ranchos in San Bernardino Valley, and the correlation of their locations with the areas chosen by each of the Lugo grantees.

In addition it should be noted here that Diego Sepulveda was not a cousin of the Lugo brothers, though he has often been popularly described.

Worst of all, getting tangled up in the Antonios, the patriarch of the family and father of the brothers, Antonio Maria Lugo, came out "Juan Antonio" Lugo. Everybody knows that Juan Antonio was the chief of the Cahuilla Indian band that worked as vacqueros for the Lugos. A friend, who had written a book about the Lugos, kindly but firmly called my attention to these errors. I referred back to my manuscript and was astonished and dismayed to see what I had written!
